Suggested Backpacking Pack List Yosemite Outdoor Adventures Yosemite Conservancy

Welcome to Yosemite Outdoor Adventures! We hope you'll enjoy your backpacking trip. We've provided this list to assist first-time backpackers and as a reminder for the seasoned backcountry traveler.

If you are a first-time backpacker, we suggest you refer to REI'S Expert Advice backpacking articles and watch a few instructional videos. Go into an outdoor store to talk to knowledgeable staff or search for books at your local library.

SUGGESTIONS

Pack Weight: Learn to scrutinize each item you want to bring and ask if it's necessary or if there is a lighter alternative. The average pack weight for a three-day trip is 30-40 lbs.

Clothing: Bring layers as the temperature in the Sierra varies throughout the day. Avoid all cotton if possible: synthetic clothing is best since it wicks moisture away from the skin. Rain gear is a must. And make sure your hiking boots or shoes are well broken in! If they're new, wear them around at home or work for a few days.

Food: Pack light, but pack enough to satisfy your appetite. Strenuous activity and high elevation can enhance or depress your normal appetite. You are required to store your food in a bear-proof canister. Yosemite Conservancy will provide these free of charge. Please pick up a canister from any Yosemite Wilderness Center prior to your trip departure.

Water: It is very important to stay adequately hydrated when backpacking; you should have a bottle or water bladder capacity for two to three liters. A water filter is the easiest way to purify your drinking water. Other methods include boiling, UV light, and water purification tablets (iodine).

The packing list on the next page is intended as a guide. You will have a pleasant experience if you take the time to plan what you bring.

Try out your equipment at home.

Enjoy your trip!
